

INSTRUCTIONS TO FOLLOW IN THE VINEYARD

Welcome to the Bourgogne winegrowing region!

The winegrowers of the Bourgogne region are proud and happy to introduce you to their terroir and their profession. The landscapes through which you will pass require a lot of care and attention year-round. It is therefore essential to properly understand the profession of winegrower and the constraints it involves in order to visit the region in complete safety.

Find out more about the art of winegrowing

◀ Read the booklet "Understanding the world of the winegrower", available for download from bit.ly/bourgogne\_winegrower2024

Watch the video "Winegrowing in Bourgogne, an artisanal trade: The People and the Vines" by flashing the qrcode opposite

Meet with winegrowers via the "Tourist cellars guide". ▶

Winegrowers will be delighted to introduce you to their profession and to offer you a wine tasting. You can download the guide at www.bourgogne-wine-cellars.com

For your own safety, to ensure a good living together with people working in the vines and to fully profit from your visit to the region, please follow the few simple instructions listed overleaf.

The areas bordering the vines are places of work for winegrowers, with tractors moving around and busy people. Please follow these simple instructions.

Safety

Remain vigilant regarding vineyard tractors

Tractors may be exiting plots to maneuver or change row, for example. They may also be driving on tracks alongside walkers or cyclists.

Do not enter the plots, especially if a tractor is operating there

Firstly, because plots are private land. And secondly, because the vines may have been treated shortly before your arrival, requiring a period of time before people are allowed to enter.

Respect the environment

Keep places tidy and do not litter in the vines.

Respect people

Remember that when you're walking through the vines, the people you may encounter there are working.

Talking and understanding

Spring and summer are very busy periods for winegrowers and the workload is intense. They may not have time to stop and chat.

If you'd like to know more, it is best to call the estate prior to your visit and arrange an appointment when the winegrower will be available. They will be able to talk to you about the terroir, their vines, and their wine, in a more relaxed atmosphere.
